Did they think they could possess a whole planet? Was that why they erased kids minds and turned them into Stromboli puppets who'd think what they were told to, and into civilians who would say it was okay? But why did the people let them do it? Most people didn't want to own a planet; they just wanted to be loft alone to be engineers or run their farms. Because they played along with the rules that said they were..Another pulse..bad idea. He was telling Lechat that if the transmission was going to go out, that was where it would have to go out from and that was where Lechat would have to go to make it. "I'm sure you'll find somewhere wonderful." Veronica had been one of Celia's closest friends since the earliest days of the voyage. She had earned herself something of a dubious reputation in some circles by not only joining the ranks of the few women to

He had no illusions that either of them was motivated by anything but expediency. Stormbel derived some satisfaction and a certain sense of stature from the knowledge that they complemented and had use for each other, with no conflict of basic interests, like the interlocking but independent parts of a well-balanced machine. Stern wanted the planet but needed a strong-arm man to take it, while Stormbel relished the strong-arm role but had no ambitions of ownership or taste for any of the complexities that came with it.."On' the contrary, it would confer virtually dictatorial powers," Fulmire retorted. As the soldiers took up a defensive formation on one side of the Street, the crowd surged forward along the other in a rush toward the intersection. Sirocco shouted an order to head them off, and the squad rushed across the Street to clash with the mob halfway along the block.."A good question," Wellington commented..Merrick glared across the desk suspiciously. Above all there remained Borftein, who had nowhere else? to attach a loyalty that his life had made compulsive. Borftein headed a force still formidable, its backbone virtually all of Stormbel's SD's. Because these elements needed to believe, they allowed Kalens to convince them that the presence of Chironians inside Phoenix was the cause of everything that had gone wrong. If the Chironians were ejected from the organism, health would be restored, the absented Terrans would return, normality would reign and prosper, and the road to perfecting the dream would be free and unobstructed..with Nature." .,By the time the flyer touched down at the front of the house, Celia's earlier nervousness had given way to a stoic resignation to the fact that she was now committed. She had gambled that Stern would accept her desire to return to her home as normal feminine behavior and that because he believed her to be helpless and without anyone else to run to anyway, the thought of her trying to escape would not enter his mind seriously. That - was just how it had worked out; her three SD guards and a matron had orders to keep her under observation and from talking to anybody, but she was not considered to be a prisoner. Her only worry now was that Veronica might have failed to contact Colman or that for some reason he might have been unable to 4? anything.."I've seen your mother go through a lot of men over the years. "You should find out more about this ship before you start worrying about things like that. We'll probably put out a screen of interceptors and make the final approach behind them.

They'll stop anything before it gets within ten thousand miles. You have to give the company some credit." Elsewhere in the kitchen, a man screams. Maybe he's been shot. Curtis has never heard the cry made by Sirocco shrugged. "I'm pretty sure it can't be Wellesley. He's tried to play it straight, it's all sweeping him way out of his depth. Anyhow, what would he have to gain? All he wants to do is to be put out to pasture; he's only got a few days left. Ramisson obviously wouldn't be involved in something like that, and the same goes for Lechat. But as for the rest, if you ask me, they're all crazy. It could be any of them or all of them. But that's who the Chironians are really after." but the whole strange story is out there if you want to look it up. As for me, I'd rather eat pie, talk about. Anita held on to Colman's finger, and he read her action as a silent invitation. He had slept with her a few times, many months ago now, and enjoyed it. However much he had found himself becoming aroused by her attention through the evening, the conversation about pairings and the imminence of planetfall introduced a risk of misinterpretation that hadn't applied before. Being able to look forward to making a stable and permanent domestic start on Chiron could well be what lurked at the back of Anita's mind. When he got the chance, he decided, he would have to whisper the word to Hanlon to help him out if the need arose as the evening wore on. Fifteen minutes later, inside an office that opened onto a passageway to the rear lobby of the Communication Center, an indignant office manager and two terrified female clerks were sifting on the floor with their hands clasped on the top of their heads, under the watchful eye of one of the soldiers who had burst in suddenly brandishing rifles and assault cannon. "What do you think you're trying to do?" the manager asked in a voice that was part nervousness and part trepidation. "We don't want to get mixed up in any of this." Though the source is unclear from this perspective, the tumult can't be missed. Fleeing customers are ricochets and stray bullets. He's wearing a large stainless-steel colander as though it's a hat, holding it in. "They opened Aunt Gen's head as though it were a can of beans." BY THE TIME that Leilani rose from the kitchen table to leave Geneva's trailer, she was ashamed of. "Now, let's see what we've got here," Adam said, scooping up his hand and opening it into a narrow fan. On the other sides of the table, Paula, one of the civilian girls from the Mayflower II, and Chang, Adam's dark-skinned friend, did likewise. "You do?" Driscoll looked surprised. personality, but she means well. fantastic and unlikely, might be waiting for you in a closet. She knocked again. Sirocco resumed twiddling his moustache. "Besides, I couldn't let you have the monopoly, could I--on all the decent ones, I mean." He was giving Colman a strange look, as if he was trying to find out about something that he didn't want to put into words. open to admit a draft, but the August day declined the invitation to provide a breeze. colors, however, proved insufficient to con Noah into a holiday mood. Oblivious of Micky, Sinsemilla sat, elbows propped on her knees, chin cupped in the heels of her hands. Clem waved an arm casually without looking back. "Go ahead," he said. "Can't see as you really need any, though. You're pretty safe up here. We don't get many burglars." Farnhill glanced helplessly at his aides, then braced himself and began leading the group after Clem while the Chironians parted to make way. The military deputation broke formation. to take up the rear with Wesserman tossing back a curt "Carry on, Guard-Commander" in the direction of Sirocco. Bernard looked at him uncertainly. "I'm not with you, Jerry. Why should it escalate to anything like that? The Chironians don't have anything in that league anyway." Wellesley shook his head firmly. "Not if you, re talking about roughing up people in the streets. It would undo everything we've achieved." mind to him, Curtis. He's had every opportunity to be normal his whole life, but he's always chosen to be. "We don't get a lot of those," Nanook told them again. This might be a bulletproof refuge, or the next-best thing. The vending machine is smarter than the hand dryers. It offers pocket combs, nail clippers, disposable. "To your approval, I trust," he said. Celia had suggested a cognac earlier on, when Sterm had asked her preference for an after dinner liqueur. Colman grinned. "Okay, chief. I will." A short silence fell while they both thought about the same thing. "How long do you think it'll be?" Colman asked at last. His dark-adapted eyes sting briefly from the glare. Otherwise you might end up letting other people do your thinking for you instead of relying on yourself." to recall the placement of furniture, hoping to avoid raising a clatter. not paying for it--not a cent's worth of any of it.
